

About the F8B notification form

Notification of agreement for consent arbitration of a general protections dispute

About general protections

The general protections provisions of the Fair Work Act 2009 aim to protect workplace rights and freedom of association, and to provide protection from workplace discrimination.

Where a general protections application involving dismissal is made, the Fair Work Commission (the Commission) will try to assist the parties to settle the matter by conducting a conference. If the dispute remains unresolved, the Commission will issue a certificate.

Following the issue of a certificate the applicant may make a general protections court application within 14 calendar days of the date the certificate is issued, or such further time as the court allows. Alternatively, once a certificate is issued the parties may then consent to the Commission arbitrating, and therefore finally determining the matter, subject to any appeal. The Commission can only arbitrate a general protections matter when both parties consent.

If the parties have notified the Commission that they consent to arbitration, the applicant cannot also make a general protections court application. If the applicant is pursuing a general protections court application, the parties cannot also seek to have the Commission arbitrate the matter.

For more information about general protections, please see the Commission's general protections guides.

Who can use this form

Use this form if you:

- are a party to a general protections matter involving dismissal before the Commission and
- a conference has been held and the matter is not resolved and
- a certificate has been issued by the Commission and
- both the parties to the matter consent to the Commission arbitrating.

Lodgment of your completed form

Lodge this form with the Commission within 14 calendar days of the day the Commission issues the certificate. You can lodge your application online using the Commission's Online Lodgment Service (OLS) or by post, by fax or by email or in person at the Commission's office in your state or territory.

Where to get help

Commission staff & resources

Commission staff cannot provide legal advice. However, staff can give you information on:

- Commission processes
- how to make an application to the Commission
- how to fill out forms
- where to find useful documents such as legislation and decisions
- other organisations that may be able to assist you.

The Commission's website www.fwc.gov.au also contains a range of information that may assist.

Legal or other representation

Representation is where another person (such as a family member or friend, lawyer or paid agent, or an employee of a union or employer organisation) speaks or acts on a person's behalf, or assists a person in certain other ways in relation to a matter before the Commission. There is no requirement to be represented at the Commission.

There are some restrictions on representation by a lawyer or paid agent.

Generally, a person must give notice to the Commission (by lodging a Form F53 – Notice that a person: (a) has a lawyer or paid agent; or (b) will seek permission for lawyer or paid agent to participate in a conference or hearing) and seek permission from the Commission Member dealing with the matter if they wish to have a lawyer or paid agent represent them by participating in a conference or a hearing.

Apart from participating in a conference or hearing, a person's lawyer or paid agent can represent them without permission, unless the Commission decides otherwise. For example, the lawyer or paid agent can prepare and lodge written applications, responses and submissions with the Commission, and communicate in writing with the Commission and other parties to the matter on the person's behalf.

The requirement to give notice and seek permission for a lawyer or paid agent to participate in a conference or hearing, does not apply if the lawyer or paid agent is:

- an employee or officer of the person or
- a bargaining representative that is representing the person or
- an employee or officer of an employee or employer organisation, or an association of employers or a peak council, that is representing the person.

Rule 12(2) of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2013 sets out further exceptions to the requirement to give notice and seek permission.

For more information about representation by lawyers and paid agents, see section 596 of the Fair Work Act 2009, rules 11, 12 and 12A of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2013 and the Commission's practice note on representation by lawyers and paid agents.

Glossary of common terms

Applicant – This is the person or organisation that is making an application.

Jurisdictional objection – This is a type of objection a Respondent can raise to an application. A Respondent can make this kind of objection if they think that the Commission, for a technical or legal reason, cannot hear the matter.

Lawyer – This is a person who is admitted to the legal profession by a Supreme Court of a State or Territory.

Paid agent – in relation to a matter before the Commission, is an agent (other than a bargaining representative) who charges or receives a fee to represent a person in the matter.

Party – A party is an Applicant, a Respondent or another person or organisation involved in a matter or case that is brought to the Commission.

Respondent – The person or organisation responding to an application made by an Applicant.

Service – Serving a document means giving a copy of the document to a person or organisation, usually to the other party to the matter. You can serve a document in a number of ways, including by email, fax, express or registered post, or in person. Parts 7 and 8 of the Fair Work Commission Rules 2013 deal with service.

Privacy

The Commission collects the information (including personal information) provided to it in this form in order to deal with the general protections application. The information will be included on the case file, and the Commission may disclose the information to the other parties to this matter and to other persons. For more details of the Commission's collection, use and disclosure of this information, please see the Privacy notice for this form, or ask for a hard copy to be provided to you.
